In this story there was a man who had lost his hair, he needed to find help because he couldn't find any. So to find his way out, the man decided to go up looking for an exit. He went from floor to floor and from room to room but didn't find a window or a door anywhere. The man began going crazy and started yelling at the top of his lungs "I want out!". After that the man had seen a woman that looked like she had been crying. She went up to him and said: "I want out of this hotel!" The man had answered: "Me too I want out of this hotel!". The woman asked him: "Didn't you hear me? I've been here for so many years and I'm still looking for the way to leave this place." The man was very surprised and thought: "maybe she can help me out so that we can both leave together". As soon as the two met, they started talking about how they were going to leave from there. The woman said: "I've watched all of the all the televisions and looked through all of the rooms and I haven't found anything. You can try whatever you want too." The man thought that he could do better than her so that he began looking for a way out. While the man was searching for an exit, he noticed a window without any glass, so he decided to go out from there. Just as the man was about to climb out from there, he turned around and noticed that the woman wasn't with him anymore. He had gone on and she had stayed behind because she couldn't find a way out. The man was very sad because he had left his help behind. He decided to go back and tell her that he had found the way out but as soon as he got there, she was gone already. He felt so sad and frustrated so he curled up on the bed and cried. It was a couple of hours later that the man heard someone calling him: "Is anybody there?". The man answered: "Yes I'm here, who's calling?". When the person started talking, it wasn't a woman but a big dog with sharp teeth and bloodshot eyes. The dog said: "You're not going to leave without anyone is you?" The man answered: "No of course not. Who are you?" The dog answered: "My name is Nemo and I'm going to let you out too". The man was so excited to know that there was a way to help him out. He couldn't believe it because he thought no one could help him out. He told the dog: "How do I get out from here?". The dog answered: "Well, It's very easy. First you have to find a key from one of those old houses nearby." So the man began searching for a key and as he walked he saw a small house nearby, so he went inside and started looking around. In one of the rooms, he found a key with a heart shape which led him to an even smaller house.
